SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Officers responded to a disturbance involving two females at an apartment complex. One female was heavily intoxicated and provided officers with her sister's name and birthdate. After officers determined no crime had occurred, the female was allowed to be taken home by a friend. Later in the night officers saw the same female stumbling on the roadway. She was re-contacted and provided her real name when she was placed under arrest for public intoxication. She was determined to have 2 outstanding warrants for her arrest. She admitted to identifying herself as her sister because she did not want to be arrested for her warrants. She was booked for her warrants, public intoxication, and false personation.
