Another busy day for dayshift. It obvious that summer is almost upon us, as the calls for service raise each year. Today the officers continued in their trend of making several narcotics and warrant arrests. In the beginning of shift, some were assigned to assist in the transfer of several juveniles who were taken 300W&I by the graveyard crew. CPS was taking forever to respond and they were all eventually taken to their respective school, per the request from CPS. I followed up on this was confirmed that CPS did contact each school the juveniles were taken to. The officers assigned as school SRO's went to training today, so off duty officers filled in for them.

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

This evening was peaceful for the most part. We responded to a fight between two women at Walmart. The fight apparently started with one woman commenting about the other woman's height. The fight was mutual and neither wanted prosecution. Officers made sure they went their separate ways without any more shenanigans. A drunk male was causing a disturbance at the Dollar General on Lander, so he was booked for public intoxication. He's a regular customer of ours and is on the once a week booking plan lately. Officers investigated two attempted auto thefts within fifteen minutes of each other. In both cases, the male suspect broke the driver window, entered and tried to steal the vehicle but was unsuccessful. Officers were able to obtain some suspect info and will follow-up to try and get him identified and arrested.

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Officers contacted a male who was sitting in a vehicle parked on the roadway. The male was determined to have a warrant and was arrested. An officer observed a vehicle on the roadway travelling at a high rate of speed. The vehicle went through an intersection against a red light and was pulled over by the officer. The young 19-year-old driver claimed to be having chest pain. AMR was requested and found nothing wrong with the male driver. It was determined he was driving with no regard for the safety of others on the roadway. He was arrested and his vehicle was towed.
