SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Our last work day for this week was a steady one. We received several calls for service, but the spacing between them allowed officers to deal with them proficiently, allowing for good investigations and safety. We took a report from a county group home regarding a reported runaway. This is the same group home we were having issues with in the past of constantly calling TPD, instead of calling the sheriff dept. This was rectified and they know who to call in the future. Officers also investigated a domestic violence in which the female half was arrested for causing injuries to her boyfriend. The injuries were not life threatening and an emergency protective order was granted by the judge.
